Ninety-five Student Organizations Are Given Recognition

Five Prominent Groups Yet Unapproved by Student Life

Ninety-five student organizations have now been officially recognized by the University Committee on Student Life and accord with the regulations prescribed by the Board of Trustees.

In general, an organization which does not appear in the list which is published in this issue, is not recognized and is not entitled to the privileges which go with recognition, the use of the name of the George Washington University, or the representation that it is composed of students or members of the University.

The completed list includes all the social fraternities and sororities, and practically all of the honor societies, professional fraternities, department clubs, general clubs, and religious clubs. In certain instances an extension of time has been granted to organizations which have not yet complied with all regulations, by a special vote of the Committee on Student Life.

Most prominent of the organizations which have not yet been recognized are Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary activities fraternity; Pyramid, honorary scholastic and activities fraternity; Troubadours; Scarab, honorary

Speidel Discusses Scientific Discovery

Tells Medical Society of Subject for Which He Won the 1931 Prize

Carl Gaskey Speidel, M. D., professor of Anatomy at the University of Virginia, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Activities of Amedoid Growth Cones, Sheath Cells and Myelin Segments, as Revealed by Prolonged Observation of Individual Nerve Fibers in Living Frog Tadpoles," at the regular monthly meeting of the George Washington University Medical Society Saturday night. Dr. Speidel, by this outstanding discovery in science, won the 1931 prize of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

A discourse on "Surgery and Radium for Uterine Fibroids," was given by Dr. Robert L. Payne, senior surgeon, St. Vincent and Protestant Hospitals, Norfolk, Virginia, in the second paper of the meeting.

During the meeting Doctors Alma Jane Speer, Earnest Sheppard, Fofu Mezitis, and L. R. Gordon were accepted for active membership in the society, and Doctors W. H. Dobson of China, J. G. P. Barger, and George H. McLain for associate membership.

Following the meeting there was a social gathering and buffet supper in the biochemical laboratory of the Medical School.

Panhellenic Lunch To Be at Mayflower

Tickets on Sale Until 5:30 Wednesday in Columbian College Office

Reservations for the Panhellenic luncheon to be held Saturday, January 23, at the Mayflower Hotel, can be made with Miss Maude O'Flaherty in the office of Columbian College, until 5:30 Wednesday by members of the active chapters of national Panhellenic sororities at the University.

Among the prominent fraternity women who have accepted, are the Grand President of Alpha Phi, the Grand Secretary of Sigma Kappa, and the National Editor of Kappa Delta.

Other than a speakers' table, a table for members of the committees which planned the luncheon, and one for the presidents of the various alumnae clubs, there will be no seating arrangements. It was decided that the Panhellenic spirit would be best fostered by not seating the guests according to sororities but by leaving it entirely a matter of choice with each guest. Consequently there will be no place cards, and guests may sit in whatever arrangement they wish. Tickets to the luncheon are $1.25.

Pi Delta Epsilon Extends Bid to Leo David, Editor

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, announces the pledging of Leo David. David has been active on the staffs of both The Hatchet and The Cherry Tree since his entrance into the University. At present he is a member of the board of editors of The Hatchet.

Initiation ceremonies will be held during the national convention of the fraternity, to be held at George Washington this Spring, at which time David and other recent pledges will be taken into the group.

History Fellowships Open to Applicants

Offer Made to Graduate Students Seeking Doctorate of Philosophy

George Washington University recently announced the offer of two Sanders Teaching Fellowships in History for the year 1932-33, with a stipend of $600 and tuition. These fellowships are offered to graduate students who have made measurable progress toward the fulfillment of residence requirements for the doctorate of philosophy in history at some other university, and who may desire a year's residence in Washington to take advantage of archival resources and advanced instruction in the National Capital.

Applicants who have specialized in American history and who wish to pursue research in the diplomatic history of the United States, will be among those first considered.

The teaching requirements of these fellowships consist of quizmaster's work in two courses, one in elementary American History and one in elementary European History, with a total of not more than eight hours.

Since four identical quiz sections will be handled in each course, there are at most only two preparations necessary each week. The incumbent of the fellowship should have at least half of his time for research. The incumbent is invited, though not required, to take seminar work provided in the diplomatic history of the United States.

Application blanks may be obtained from the Registrar and should be filed before March 1, on which date the candidates will be chosen. Applications should be accompanied by recommendations particularly from those who are familiar with any experience the candidate may have had which will be of use in the teaching duties of the fellowship.

Dr. Stern Will Talk Before Liberal Club

Economist Lecturer Will Emphasize Amusement Industry in Speech

Tomorrow evening, students will hear a talk on "Technological Displacement," by Dr. Boris Stern, noted economist and liberal author, to be given before the G. W. Liberal Club. Dr. Stern's talk will emphasize the amusement industry, which he studied in great detail on a survey trip he has recently completed. He will speak in W-17 at 8:15 p. m.

As this lecture is one of the final talks to be given under the auspices of the Liberal Club this semester, it is hoped that Dr. Stern will be greeted with a large attendance. Everyone is invited, and there is, of course, no charge. An important business meeting of the club will be held, immediately following the lecture and discussion period. All members are urged to be present.

El Club Espanol Speaker Lectures on Spanish Life

El Club Espanol will have for guest speaker Mr. Samuel B. Reeder at its last meeting this semester at 8:15 p. m. in Corcoran Hall 22, January 21. Mr. Reeder will illustrate his lecture with slides on Spain and Spanish life which will include a number of pictures of the national Spanish sport, bullfighting.

Notice of the first meeting of El Club Espanol for next semester will be announced in The Hatchet. This will be a meeting of reorganization.

Additional Courses To Mark Opening Of New Semester

Sociology, Law, Home Economics and Education School Are Extended

New courses will be inaugurated in several fields of instruction in the University with the opening of the second semester.

The Sociology Department offers a course in Community Organizations to be given by Elwood Street, director of the Washington Community Chest, who has just returned to Washington after several months in the Middle-Western States where he was engaged in organization work for the President's Committee on Unemployment Relief.

A course in The Family will be given under Paul Benjamin, executive secretary of the District Committee on Unemployment Relief, as well as other specialized classes under Professor Dudley Wilson Willard, executive officer of the department, and Robert Russ Kern, professor of Urban Sociology. All may be entered in the

Betty Coon Elected President at Pledge Panhellenic Meeting

Delegates Will Submit Projects for Next Year's Rushing to Panhellenic Council

Betty Coon, Alpha Delta Pi delegate, was chosen president of the Panhellenic Pledge Council at the first meeting, January 12. Helen Waters, Alpha Delta Theta, is secretary, and Edith Mish, Chi Omega, is treasurer. It was decided to rotate offices in the alphabetical order of sororities rather than in the order of their establishment at the University, as is done in the Panhellenic Council.

At this meeting, Louise Berryman, president of the Panel, spoke to the pledges, outlining the purpose and the aims of the Pledge Council.

Suggestions for next year's rushing were heard and discussed at the meeting held Thursday, January 14. These suggestions will be submitted to the Panhellenic Council.

A constitution committee of Mabel Money, Pi Beta Phi, chairman; Elizabeth Clary, Sigma Kappa; Barbara Price, Kappa Delta; and Jeanne West, Zeta Tau Alpha, was appointed to draw up a constitution to be presented at the next meeting of the council.

Edith Mish, Chi Omega, was made chairman of a financial committee to work out plans for raising money for the Council. Martha Sutton, Phi Mu, and Helen Waters, Alpha Delta Theta, are the other members of the committee.

Margaret Richards is the new Alpha Delta Pi delegate chosen to take the place of Betty Coon, the president not being permitted to vote.

The next meeting of the Council will be held today at noon in Corcoran Hall 16.

Luther Club Hears Dr. Long's Speech

Subject of Talk Is "History of the Lutheran Church in America"

The Rev. Ralph Long, D.D., executive secretary of the National Lutheran Council, was the guest speaker at the January meeting of the G. W. Luther Club, last Tuesday at Luther Place Memorial Church.

Rev. Gerhard Lenek, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, introduced Dr. Long, who gave an inspiring and informative address on the "History of the Lutheran Church in America."

Provost Wilbur was called upon to give a short address. At the close of his remarks he was presented with a morocco-bound copy of the "Oxford Book of English Verse," an expression of the appreciation of the Luther Club for the interest and enthusiasm Dean Wilbur has shown in the Luther Club since its organization last March.

Colonials Schedule Outstanding Teams In 1932 Grid Frays

Washington and Lee, Alabama, Tulsa, and Oklahoma U. Are on List

The George Washington Colonials of 1932 will face one of the hardest schedules ever arranged for a George Washington team, when they play nine games with some of the country's outstanding teams. Following his opinion on the value of intercollegiate games to the University, Coach Pixley has contracted for five intercollegiate tilts and one still pending. The only date not filled on the schedule is for the first of October and the final agreements will be closed in the next few days for that game. The season opens with the Buff and Blue at Lexington, where they take on the Washington and Lee Generals on September 24.

The home season opens here on October 1. October 8 will bring the Crimson Tide of Alabama here for one of the most desirable games of the

Columbian Women Explore Literature In Special Fields

Exhibits at Congressional and Bureau of Railway Economics Libraries Are Visited

Contributions to American literature made by writers in two widely different special fields have been employed by the literature section of Columbian women, under the leadership of Mrs. Edgar Woolard, and a special trip made through the Library of Congress to see collections of American, Oriental, and other literatures, and the Vollbehr Collection of Incunabula.

In November the Section met in the Library of the Bureau of Railway Economics, where the reference librarian, Elizabeth O. Cullen, had assembled representative railroad material of interest and value in the study of American literature and history.

In December the Section was conducted through the Library of Congress by Mrs. Lucy Cullen of the Library staff, who explained the history of various special collections, and the special facilities for research at the Library of Congress.

On January 12, Dean Elizabeth Peet of Gallaudet College, read a paper before the Section entitled "The Prose and Poetical Writings of the Deaf," including selections from the works of Henry Winter Stye, Ida Montgomery, Edwin Booth, William Beadell, and Edward Allan Hodgson.

Both Miss Cullen and Miss Peet are past presidents of Columbian Women. Their papers and others to be given before the Literature Section will be compiled and issued as a Section yearbook at the end of the year.

Students Respond To Cultural Clubs

Symphony Club Founded to Give Contacts in City's Art

Believing that George Washington students should take full advantage of the opportunities of a cultural nature which Washington has to offer, Mrs. Barrows, director of women's personal guidance, has been interested in seeing established on the campus this winter a number of clubs whose purpose it is to give students contacts with the drama, art and music of the city.

By means of visits to galleries, libraries, concerts, plays, and discussions by people prominent in these circles, very pleasant and valuable contacts have been made. The response has been enthusiastic.

The Symphony Club was formed in November under the direction of Virginia Dickerman. The president is Edith Spaulding and the secretary, treasurer, Mary Elizabeth Pierce. The Club attends the Sunday concerts of the National Symphony Orchestra and other musicals if the opportunity occurs. After the Sunday concerts the Club has been having supper meetings at which discussions on the programs of the day take place. At the meeting last Sunday Eleanor Hubert, pianist, who has played over WRC frequently, gave several Chopin numbers.

Fraternity Council's Dance Declared Hit

Charlie Wright's Orchestra Lives Up to All Advance Publicity

Last Saturday night the Interfraternity Council produced proof of its advance publicity on the dance held in Corcoran Hall when about 150 couples cavorted to the strains of Charlie Wright's band. This party was labeled by all who attended as the best dollar dance ever held in the University, which was a fitting celebration of the basketball team's victory over Villanova.

Members of both the George Washington and Villanova teams were guests of the council as well as the staff of the athletic department.

Jack Vivian, chairman of the social committee of the council, announces that due to the success of this party there will be more scheduled after basketball games with the teams as guests.

Plans are getting under way for the prom which will be held during the second week in March and the committee promises that this year's party will be the best ever held in the University. There will be many novel features, as well as new talent in orchestras.

Ruth Allen to Attend Geneva Conferences

Receives Secretarial Position with Disarmament Delegation

Ruth Joyce Allen, a student at George Washington University, recently received the appointment as secretary to the staff of the American Delegation for the Disarmament Conference, which will be held at Geneva, Switzerland, beginning February 2, 1932. She will sail tomorrow afternoon on the S. S. President Harding, and arrive in Geneva January 29. She will remain with the Conference until it adjourns, probably within the next six or seven months, and then travel through Europe.

Miss Allen is the assistant to the foreign service officer in charge of Consular regulations at the State Department. She attends evening classes at George Washington and is registered for the pre-government curriculum in Junior College, planning eventually to enter the Foreign Service Division of the School of Government.

She came to G. W. in the fall of 1929, and was elected to Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary scholastic fraternity, at the completion of her first year. Besides making an enviable scholastic record, she has found time to do reportorial work on The University Hatchet, and is one of the most energetic and efficient members of her social sorority, Kappa Delta, of which she is secretary.

Phi Pi Epsilon Announces Pledging of Four Women

Four women students in the University, who have revealed their interest in the foreign or economic affairs of our Government, were pledged to Phi Pi Epsilon, foreign service sorority, at a meeting held at the Kappa Delta House last Wednesday evening. They are Cary Aal, Evelyn Kerr, Dorothy Neils, and Anna Maren Syverston. Mildred Burnham, president of the sorority, conducted the pledging ceremony.

The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Mary Bainbridge Haden, at one time connected with the Associated Press. In her talk, which was most interesting and very colorful, she told of the various assignments she was required to "cover," among which was the cross-country campaign of Herbert Hoover during the last presidential race.

Varsity Courtmen Listed for Strong Opposing Quintets

Visitors Promise Mettle Testing Opposition Thursday and Monday

In two court battles which promise to be among the highlights of the season, the Colonial varsity will entertain Duquesne University, Thursday, and De Paul University, of Chicago, in an intercollegiate clash, next Monday. The scene of action for both games will be the George Washington Gymnasium, and the starting time 8 o'clock.

The strength of the local footmen will be severely tested by the invading quintets, as Duquesne has overcome all opposition to date, and De Paul has gained nation-wide fame by her great teams of the past several years. The engagement with the latter was originally scheduled to be played January 28, but was moved up in order to avoid a conflict with mid-year examinations.

Included in the list of the Dukes' victims are Pitt, West Virginia Wesleyan, and Grove City College, as well as several independent and club teams. Coach Davies' regular combination is composed of four sophomores and one junior. Captain Bunk McGeever, at center, is the lone man with previous varsity experience. Leo Feldman, Jim McDougall, forwards, and Marty Rieter, Rudy Moore, guards, are the men who are doing stellar work.

Dr. William Bowie Will Give Address

Authority to Talk on "Washington as a Scientific Center"

On Friday, January 22, at 8:15 p. m., Dr. William Bowie, of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, will speak in Corcoran Hall 29 on "Washington as a Scientific Center."

Dr. Bowie's purpose is to point out some of the opportunities for scientific work with which Washington abounds.

Dr. Bowie, who is internationally known, has been associated with the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey since 1895, and has been in charge of the Division of Geodesy since 1909. He is regarded as an inspiring speaker, with a broadened outlook and an enthusiastic appeal.

Presbyterians Hold Weekly Discussions

Club Members Discuss Religious Views and Problems of the Day

Weekly discussion groups have been the keynote of the Presbyterian Club since the last meeting, early in December. Every Wednesday at 12:30 and 7:45 two groups of young people meet to discuss every day problems. The Rev. John R. Duffell, D.D., leads the noon group which began with a discussion of "What is Christianity?"

Under Miss Thurston's leadership the evening group has been having lively discussions on a Christian's duty to his fellow man. This led to theories on sacrifice and the old phrases, "Live and let live," and "The world owes me a living."

The next meeting, the last before exams, will be in the form of an informal debate on the subject of de-nominationalism.

New Art Appreciation Club Holds Organization Meeting

The first meeting of the newly organized Art Appreciation Club of George Washington University was held Friday night at the home of Harriet Garrels. The purpose of the club is to promote appreciation and understanding of art in all its phases. An interesting lecture on modern textile designing was presented.

Officers elected were: Ellen Anderson, president; Lois Gray, vice president, and Eleanor Heller, secretary-treasurer. Meetings are held the first Friday of each month. New members are welcome.

Varsity Basketball

It seems as though we are never satisfied, but one suggestion has come from so many different sources that it warrants consideration in this column. Everyone is aware of the fact that we have a basketball team this year that is truly a representative one. With a record of five straight wins against strong aggregations, and with two of its members nearly tied for the position of leading scorer of the District, the varsity is making an enviable reputation for itself.

The students apparently need no urging to attend the games, for the athletic department has been packing them into the small gym at every game, crowding the building to capacity.

But there has been no organized cheering group at the games. A cheer leader or two would help immeasurably in keeping up the morale of the team at crucial points during the contest. In past years, with less attractive games, and few people in the stands to bolster the spirit of the team, we have had several on hand with nothing with which to work.

We have been complaining of the failure of the student body to display any interest in activities of our varsity teams. Let's not go back on it now, when it has voluntarily come forward with as much support as it is possible to give.

Credit is due the athletic department for its arrangement of a schedule attractive enough to provide interest among the students such as has been evidenced so far this season, and with the toughest part of it still ahead we will soon have to be making a bid for the few seats available in the gym in order to get in to witness these thrillers.

Have You Registered?

Just one more word to remind you that the pre-registration period extends to January 27. Many students have taken advantage of this opportunity to get through with this task while it is a light one, instead of putting it off until February 8, and if you have not already done so, get busy now.

Get your blank, consult your adviser, and finish up now. If more convenient you may wait until the last day of the regular registration period to pay your first installment of tuition.

Letters to the Editor

As has been brought out several times in the past, The Hatchet welcomes letters of criticism—or of praise—but when a student has enough conviction in his own ideas to stand up for them and admit them it seems reasonable to believe that he will be willing to let the world know who he is. The anonymous critic reveals his own weaknesses. Several unsigned letters have come to the attention of the editors lately, some of which appear to have been prepared after very serious consideration, and it is our belief that if the persons responsible realized what little weight anonymous communications carried they would stop wasting so much effort and either discontinue the correspondence or lend some importance to it by affixing their signature to it.

Go to It

Many students will await with interest the outcome of the Interfraternity Council meeting to be held this coming Sunday, for rumor has it that some change may be expected in the method of governing the group, a breaking up of the old political line-up, and substitution of an equitable plan which will make possible a maximum of accomplishment.

If some plan is actually put into effect which will inspire confidence in the Council and bring about cooperation among its members, it will mean new life to a body which has known little of the pleasant side of life for some time.

CHIPS

At last, after years of thought and concentration, a way has been found to prevent some fraternities from winning all the cups all of the time. Just stretch out the basket ball season until it's time for tennis and then call the darn thing off. Anyway, it gives the editor a chance to work off editorial steam—everything's good for something.

The discovery that the girls' basketball team plays behind closed doors leads us to wonder whether the Athletic Department has designed a costume which would startle the modern world, or whether it's just reversion to Mid-Victorian styles; but, after all, we guess it's just to keep those nasty boys from standin' around the gym and starrin'.

It looks like the A. D. P.'s are beating the Chi O's time over at the Naval Academy and the Kappa's time at the Theta Delta house. One of their pledges has been requested to submit a photo for publication in The Lucky Bag. Can't you just see the Chi O's chewing their fingernails? Hope the photo's not one of Casson's.

The Glee Club gave the girls from National Park a big break the other night at the Shoreham. That is, they thought they did. Then one of the little girls piped up as one of the august members put on his topper and said, "What fraternity is he goating for?" Ain't that cute?

The dance after the basket ball game Saturday was a rip-roarer. In fact, it was one of the best Rollo has ever crashed.

Pledging fever seems to have hit campus again. We note this week that Delta Tau Delta, Phi Pi Epsilon, and Alpha Delta Pi have let down the bars again and taken in some new members. They need money, too.

Now the K. D.'s can leave widow shades up at night. The Georgetown frat which lived across the street, and with which they used to exchange dates, has moved out and left them flat. Could it have been that "slips in the night" did not pass often enough or what—?

The big thrill in varsity basket ball came Saturday when Officer Barney Hale gave the gate to several ambitious young men, seven or less, who insisted on making the nude limbs of our heroes targets for tacks propelled by rubber bands.

Engagements are becoming so prevalent these days that we're afraid to look at a woman anymore. The latest combination of Kappa and Phi Delta has led us to seek the library as a shelter from prying females. But, after all, it's leap year—maybe we should give the women a chance (not that they need it). Step right up, girls—for a buck you can join our waiting list.

When were you born—why and where? Do you have athlete's foot, dandruff or an A.B. in Columbian College? To whom shall bills be sent? (Be sure to give correct name and address, and no foolin'). Was there ever any incompatibility, diphtheria, or influenza in your family?

Now, this isn't one of Moss' famed Intelligence Tests, nor even a questionnaire from the Physical Ed. Department. It's merely a sample of what you get when you indulge in Pre-Registration, which is all the rage nowadays.

Football loses only two men by graduation this year, but as the rest are all juniors, we sure must do a lot of flunking hereabouts if we expect to have a team in '33.

Your chance is coming. Watch this column for EXCHANGE WEEK!

If local Pan-Hel affairs are indicative of Pan-Hel events, the luncheon next Saturday of the National Pan-Hellenic Association should be the scene of much fur flying.

On perusing weekly copy, we find some queer things. For instance, in the opinion of one young Hatchet hopeful, Henry is much nicer than Alva in speaking of Professor Wilgus. Quick, Henry—?

Rollo (the ponderous and conceited), writhing under the lash of Betty's (alias Nonsense) nimble wit, in his own crude way invites her to send or go herself to the Hatchet Copy Box, and there find a hand inscribed invitation for the Battle of the Century.

DICK ROLLO.

Pete Macias' Orchestra
Engaged by Club Michel

The management of Club Michel, No. 1 Thomas Circle, announces the engagement of Pete Macias, Washington's popular dance pianist, and his band, with Marty Rubin featured as vocalist and master of ceremonies.

Club Michel continues to offer its distinctive floor revues, direct from New York. Sunday tea dances, from 4:30 to 6:30, are especially popular with the collegiates.

Managerships Open to Women

The Physical Education Department for Women announces that vacancies exist in the positions of managers of intramurals, tennis, and baseball. Applications for these three positions should be filed with Ruth Atwell immediately.

Colonials Meet Duquesne, De Paul, in Current Games

In their first year on the varsity, McDougall and McGeever are over six feet in height, and the team as a whole is fast on its feet and strong on defense. The players will make the trip to Washington, as well as the coach, trainer, and manager. The Ducks will also meet Georgetown and Catholic University before engaging George Washington, and it will be interesting to note the comparison between the three.

De Paul Has Winning Five
The De Paul five this year seems to be no exception of its fine teams of recent seasons. It has hung up victories over Southern California, St. Viator, Centenary, and St. Thomas, while losing only to Carleton in a hard fought match. Coach Kelly's regular quint includes Heine Coan and Rondinella at forward, Weston at center, and Captain Joe O'Connor and Tony Lauritis at guard. With the exception of Weston, a sophomore, these men are all veterans of last year.

The team has a wealth of reserve material, mostly sophomores, on hand, and Shay, Dooey, Portness and Gorsky are making the first stringers hustle to hold their berths. O'Connor and Coan have been out of the game with illness and injury, but it is hoped that they will both be in shape for the coming encounter. The Blue Demons are making an extended Eastern trip, during which they will meet Catholic University here.

The Buff and Blue will be seeking two more scalps, to add to their five straight wins already registered over Shemandoah, Quantico Marines (two times), St. Joseph's and Villanova. Should they play up to the form displayed so far, Pixlee's men stand a good chance to accomplish their purpose.

The quint which has been playing together will probably be the regular combination for the rest of the campaign.

THE SHELTON
at 49th and Lexington NEW YORK
When the Shelton opened (7 years ago) we began catering to college men and women. Gradually their patronage has increased; we feel safe in asserting that more students make the Shelton their New York home than at any club or other hotel. One reason for this is the free recreational features plus a desire to serve on the part of Shelton employees. Room rates have been greatly reduced. $2.50 per day without bath. $3.00 per day with bath. $4.00 per day, double with bath. Lower rates by the month.
Club features (free to guests) are as follows: Swimming pool; completely equipped gymnasium; game rooms for bridge and backgammon; roof garden and solarium; Restaurant and cafeteria service at reasonable prices.

"Repetition is Reputation"

These wise words of merchandiser Wannamaker are axiomatic to the Jenners.

The Jenners are building a reputation on the campus for excellent cuisine (the food merits such a term), for kindly attention to patrons, and for prices within the means of students.

This coveted reputation is being proclaimed not only by The Hatchet but also by G. W. repeat patrons.

A number have remarked about the 25 cent luncheon which includes a choice of any two of the following: Soup, salad, vegetable, sandwich, dessert, with bread and butter and beverage.

Colonials Triumph Twice to Maintain Undefeated Record

Trample Over St. Joseph's and Villanova; Varsity Shows Teamwork

George Washington defeated St. Joseph's, 43-25, Friday night and Villanova, 36-26, Saturday night, in the gym, adding two more scalps to its undefeated string of victories which now totals five. The Colonials showed students and local fans a fast passing and shooting attack in both contests that was temporarily halted at times but always managed to get started soon enough to give the home team a healthy lead at the final whistle. Both opponents, hailing from the vicinity of Philadelphia, clicked at times, but both

Finnis Parrish Undergoes Operation for Appendicitis

Finnis Parrish, sterling halfback of the 1931 Colonials, was attacked with an acute case of appendicitis Tuesday, January 12, and was rushed to the George Washington University Hospital where he was operated on later in the evening. His condition is reported to be the best that could be expected under the conditions.

were forced to place too much dependence on long shots, G. W.'s defense smothering most attempts near the basket.

In the Friday game against St. Joseph's the Colonials scored first on a field goal by Wick Parrack which Zahn followed closely with a foul for a three point lead. With this advantage the Colonials gradually pulled away, and midway in the first half had an 11-1 lead, accounted for by Zahn, Parrack and Burgess, while Smith had made the visitors' lone tally on a charity shot.

A rest and the entrance of Zuber into the game aided the Saints and they cut down the Colonials' lead at half time to 19-9. The visitors had rallied on field goals by Osborne's Walker and Smith's work at the foul line, while two free shots made good by Chambers, three successful charity goals and a goal from the floor by Parrack and a foul shot and a field goal by Burgess accounted for the Colonials' scores.

Parrack Leads Scorers

Parrack with 14 points and Zahn with 11 led George Washington scorers, while Osborne, Smith and Zuber, with six, seven, and eight points, respectively, led the visitors. The floor play of Zahn was excellent, and his nine points in the last half came when most needed.

Saturday night the Colonials seemed to have felt the effect of the previous evening's battle as they mixed with Villanova. From the start of play the teams battled on nearly even terms, with an 18-18 deadlock at the half.

At one time G. W. had a six point lead, but Villanova pulled up on long shots by Lynch and Czesik, with the resulting tie at intermission. In the second half Lynch was guarded more closely and the Wildcat offensive slowed down. Field goals by Parrack and Hertzler and a foul by Burgess gave the Colonials a five point lead early in the period. The Wildcats retaliated on scores by Prucha, Tracy, and Czesik, and were trailing by a single point when the Colonials suddenly awoke from their stupor and started another late rally.

Hertzler Makes Needed Points. Hertzler gathered five points on two floor shots and a foul. Mulvey, subbing for Burgess, added two more on a perfect pass from Parrack, and Burgess made good on a foul as the Colonials easily maintained their lead until the close of the game.

Artie Lynch's 13 points led both teams in scoring and the George Washington points were divided evenly, Burgess and Hertzler getting nine and Parrack one less. The play of Hertzler in both games was a high spot, his scoring coming in the last half when it was most needed.

Freshman Quint Will Play

Strong Teams This Week

The frosh five will meet three strong opponents on the court this week in hopes of taking up their winning streak again. Emerson Institute's quint will play the Cubs in the Gym this evening at 7:30 o'clock. On Thursday the freshmen will tackle the Central five in a return game at Central at 4 p. m. Gonzaga will be the third opponent of the week and will play in the Gym at 7 p. m., Saturday.

Emerson has placed a good team in the running this season and the Cubs will have their hands full to come out on the long end of the score. Central is making a good bid for the inter-high crown, and although it lost the previous encounter, will offer the frosh a real contest. Gonzaga, which has lost to Tech and Eastern, the only teams which have defeated the freshmen by small margins, will threaten the Cubs' chances of running another winning streak.

Wayne Chambers Is Elected Captain At Football Dinner

Coach Pixlee Presents Letters To 20 Men; James Kirkland Toastmaster

Wayne Chambers, right end, was unanimously elected captain of the George Washington University football team for 1932, at an informal banquet held at the Varsity Club at 1609 K St. N. W., last Tuesday evening. Letters were awarded twenty varsity players and to Manager Fries by Coach Pixlee. The entire varsity and freshman squads attended the affair.

James Kirkland, former student at George Washington and at present in the District Attorney's office, was toastmaster. Provost Wilbur, Dean Doyle, and Coach Pixlee gave short talks. Floyd F. Hanly was the feature speaker of the evening. Among the other guests present were Mr. Merry, Mr. Keller, Mr. Ashley, and L. W. McCormick.

Captain Chambers is a junior in the University, twenty-one years old, and hails from Commerce, Okla. He was selected for the position of right end on the All-District eleven which was picked last month.

The following men were recipients of monogrammed sweaters: Lee Carlin; Joe Carter, Johnny Fenlon, Otto Kriemelmeyer, Blackie Hoffman, Finnis Parrish, Kermit Stewart, John Matia, Wayne Chambers, Fred Mulvey, Bob Galloway, Ras Neilsen, Barney Hale, Walter Blair, John Asher, Ralph Dike, Wallace Wilson, Frank Blackstone, Boyd Hickman, and Jay Payne. Blackie Hoffman, reserve backfield man, and Barney Hale, tackle, will be the only ones lost to the team through graduation. Practically all the other members are in their junior year.

Mermen Will Elect Captains Tomorrow

Varsity and Freshmen Preparing for Intercollegiate Competition

Varsity and freshman swimming squads will elect team captains at a meeting tomorrow, preparatory to embarking upon a schedule of intercollegiate meets.

The varsity opener will be held on February 6 when it will meet the navigators from Washington and Lee in the Ambassador Hotel Pool.

Other meets on the schedule are those with Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore, February 13; William and Mary, here on February 19; University of Virginia, here on February 23; and Duke University, here on February 27.

The Colonials are also entered in the National Intercollegiate Meet to be held at Annapolis, Md., March 18 and 19. On the same dates the District of Columbia Amateur Athletic Union will sponsor a meet and G. W. Mermen will swim in that meet in the evening after swimming afternoons in the National Intercollegiate Meet.

Coach Albert Lyman states that he has a good squad to enter in the meets scheduled for the coming season and expects to win a creditable number of the events.

Members of the varsity squad include Rote, McMillan, Garrett, Heslop, Love, Kinsler, Trammel, Samuels, Burnside, McMullan, Flocks, and Schopmeyer. Rote, a star performer, is expected to win many dash events. Heslop is a first-rate diver and much is expected of him after the season gets underway. Others of the varsity squad will be new to that group, several members of the present freshman squad being eligible for varsity service after February 1.

It is still possible for qualified swimmers to secure places on the varsity squad. There will also be a number of vacancies on the freshman squad after February 1 and any students wishing to swim with the team are requested to report to Coach Lyman at the Ambassador Hotel Pool on any Monday or Wednesday evening at 7 p. m.

Squad Tryouts for Class Rifle Teams in Progress

Squad tryouts for women's class rifle teams are being held until February 13. Each class team will consist of four members. The match is to be shot during the last two weeks in February, and the members of the winning team will be awarded numerals.

All those who are interested in shooting are urged to try out.

Women Riflers Reach Final Stage in Individual Matches

The first two stages of the Women's Individual Championship rifle match have now been shot, and one more stage remains before completion of the match which is an annual national event.

Last year's champion, Edith G. Pritchard of the University of Vermont, made 595 points out of a possible 600.

Score made so far out of a possible 400 by G. W. entrants are:

Virginia Sheffield 395

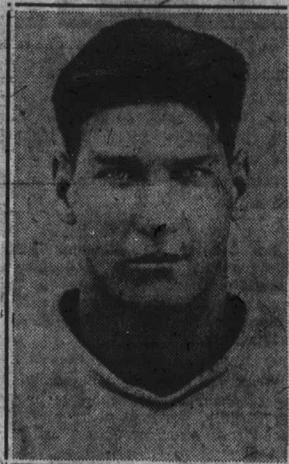

Caroline Seibert 395

Ruth White 393

Evelyn Kerr 391

Naomi Myers 376

Colonial Rifle Team Competes in League

Navy, Georgetown and Johns Hopkins On Seven-Week Schedule

The George Washington University Rifle team will compete this season in the Maryland, District of Columbia, and Virginia Intercollegiate Rifle League, one of five leagues conducted by the National Rifle Association for college teams. The Colonials last year were runners-up to the Naval Academy, champion both of the league and of the intercollegiate world.

Matches are fired on indoor ranges with small bore rifles. The league schedule, as announced by the National Rifle Association, covers seven weeks of competition. Winners in each of the five leagues will compete in an elimination series to determine the champion among the colleges.

The scheduled match with Georgetown University has been postponed until later in the season. The Buff and Blue squad will meet in order the following teams beginning the last week of January: Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Virginia Military Institute, Johns Hopkins, University of Maryland, Naval Academy, Western Maryland, and Georgetown.

Little Colonial Quint Loses to Tech High

Washington and Lee High School Beaten in Other Game Last Week

The G. W. freshman basketball team won an easy game from Washington and Lee High School last Tuesday afternoon, 41-10, and came out on the small end of a 27-34 score in a tilt with the sharpshooting youngsters from Tech High School on Friday.

Len Walsh's charges had little difficulty subduing the Little Generals and were ahead from the opening whistle. Comparatively poor team play in the first half on the part of the freshmen resulting in the insertion of "Ox" Wickam to center and the changing of Bill Noonan to a forward position. This combination began to click in the second half and soon put the freshmen ahead and they coasted to victory.

In the game Friday, Tech High proved a stumbling block for the frosh. A tricky zone defense coupled with the flashy shooting of speedy Bernie Reichardt, Tech forward, proved too much of a handicap for the freshmen. Andy Gleeson, spirited frosh forward, led the team in scoring with five field goals. The loss to Tech is only the second in seven games for the frosh.

Women Basketers Give Demonstration

Rating Committee Sees Exhibition of Teaching Methods

The Official Basketball Rating Committee met in the George Washington gymnasium, Thursday, January 14, to view picked teams of University women in a demonstration game. This meeting is held annually for the purpose of stimulating interest in and raising the standard of officiating in Washington.

A new feature, given by request, was a demonstration of methods used by the Physical Education Department of the University in teaching the fundamentals of basketball. Kay McCallum staged this event with the help of two picked teams in order to give the instructors a basis for comparing teaching methods.

Immediately following this feature, the game demonstrating the use of the new center pass was played. Miss Marie Simes, a National A referee and a member of the Interpretation of Rules Committee, interpreted the fouls as they were called by Miss Lair, a National B referee. Both Miss Simes and Miss Lair came over from Baltimore to participate in the event. After the game there was a general discussion of rules.

Following is the line-up of the teams which took part in the demonstration:

Red Team Black Team
Lofgren 1 Garber
Haley, M. 1 Hyatt
Symons 1 Lawton
Linkins 1 Eilett
Watkins 1 Wilson
Cox 1 McCallum

Champions to Battle For Basketball Cup

Sigma Nu Will Defend Title Wednesday Against Phi Sigma Kappa

A great battle is expected when Sigma Nu, defending champions, and Phi Sigma Kappa hook horns tomorrow night in the final game for the Interfraternity Basketball Championship at the gym. Phi Sig has won the honors in League A, while Sigma Nu garnered League B laurels.

This game should decide whether the tight defense of Sigma Nu will be able to stop the high scoring Eye-Streeters. Since the series has begun Sigma Nu has displayed the best defense seen in a fraternity team in a long while. In games with Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma, the defending champs did not allow their opponents to score until the second half. In all of their tilts in League A the Phi Sigs proved that they had an eye for the basket and have won all their games by at least ten points.

The Sigma Nu line-up will probably find an addition in the form of lanky Bob Galloway, who substituted for Allen, regular center, in the S. P. E. game. Waller and Crouch will probably start at the forward positions, with Billy Woodward, brainy leader of Sigma Nu, and White playing guards.

For the Phi Sigs, Weigel and Cordova, forwards; Bill Noonan, high scoring center who has averaged 11 points per game in the series, and Shirley and Laykins, guards, will take the floor at the opening whistle.

Parrack and Burgess Lead

All D. C. Collegiate Scorers

Wick Parrack, forward of George Washington's unbeaten quint, leads all Capital college scorers to date with a total of 66 points for five games. Forrest Burgess, his teammate, trails him by one point.

Jensen, Gallaudet forward, is third with 61 points in six games, and White, Catholic U. guard, fifth, with 60 in nine games.

Following are statistics on the six major Capital teams and the G. W. squad:

season from the spectators' viewpoint. Many of the followers of the local colleges viewed these men in the charity game here last year and realize the caliber of the team. The Alabamans went through the last season with but one defeat, which they suffered from the Kentucky gridmen. Catawba College will send its eleven to cope with the Colonials on October 15. The Catawba team hails from Salisbury, N. C., and had an undefeated record for last year among college circles.

Tulsa University, which has twice downed the Colonials, will be the next foe and things point to an avenging victory for the Buff and Blue. This will be the last game played away from Washington. The four remaining games, three of which are to be intersectional, will give the followers the best in football circles. Iowa University plays here on October 22, in a return game. They won from the Colonial eleven by a 7-0 score last year. North Dakota State College will be one of the few night games played this year. The Aggies had a strong team last year and indications are pointing to a winning combination this year. They lost to Wisconsin and Minnesota by 7 point margins and were beaten by North Dakota 20-7. The Saturday following this game will see the appearance of William and Mary eleven here. This is a renewal of games with the Indians, the last being played there in 1928. The following Saturday will be left open in preparation for the Oklahoma game, which will take place on November 24. Oklahoma went through the season undefeated last year, tramping the Tulsa Oilers 20-0. The Oilers gave the Colonials a 24-7 beating in their game last season.
